Title	Civil society seminar for EU countries, Albania and Macedonia
Description	CPIP-Junior researcher Pana Alexandra participation
Text	On the 25'th of March 2012 in Weimar, MitOst organized a civil society seminar for EU countries, Albania and Macedonia, which I was lucky to attend. The selection of participants for the seminar was through applications, and the participants were divided into three groups according to interest: diversity, youth empowerment, and social activism. This brought together people from many different fields and made it easy to find people interested in our AgriSafety project, by means of a common space where all participants could leave promotional materials and contact information in the main work space of the seminar. This way, participants were able to find out who worked in topics that interested them, and receive targeted information from those people, as well as fliers and other materials. This seminar was a good space for networking, and our facilitators gave us every chance to share our experiences. There will be a follow-up seminar in Brussels starting on the 17'th of September which I will also attend. Alexandra Pana Junior researcher CPIP
